

CORMEUM The Smart Heart App

Managing heart failure just got easier. The Cormeum app helps you track what's important.

Cormeum was developed by a heart failure nurse specialist who saw the need to provide patients with a way to help them manage their disease more effectively and even share their results with their providers.

Features

Track Sodium Levels

When you track your meals, the Cormeum app automatically tracks your sodium intake. Just set the sodium target your health provider recommends and Cormeum takes it from there, tracking your daily, weekly, and monthly levels.

Daily Checklists

Cormeum lets you schedule twice daily reminders so you can enter the information you want to track while everything's fresh in your mind. It only takes a few minutes per day to track your:

- Weight
- Fluid intake and output
- Symptoms
- Mood

You can also set medication reminders and track your dosages. Cormeum generates easy-to-read charts, so you can track your daily progress at a glance or see how you're doing over time. You can even share your charts with your health provider or a loved one.
